

ELLA GINGLES IS STILL IN SPOTLIGHT

Court-Room Jammed With Women, Drawn by Sensations of Trial.

MANY FORGED PASSES

Girl Sticks to Statement That She Was a "White Slave" Victim.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 12.—Ella Gingles continued to bask in the white light of public interest to-day. Judge Brennan's courtroom, where the young Irish lace-maker is on trial for the jury of lace from Miss Agnes Barrette, her former employer, a charge which she declares was made only to cover attempts to lead her into "white slavery," was jammed with women, several of whom obtained entrance through trickery and forgery of passes, it is said.

The State to-day dealt the defense several telling blows. The story of the Wellington Hotel bathroom incident was impeached in many important features. Attempts of counsel for the defendant to bring into the case the names of well-known men, said to be behind the alleged plot against the girl, met with failure.

Dr. Arthur E. Price, a medical expert, gave testimony tending to support the theory that the girl is suffering from hysteria. Dr. Price saw the girl at the hospital after she was found injured in the bathroom. He expressed the opinion that her wounds were self-inflicted.

After a brief cross-examination by Attorney O'Donnell, Miss Gingles was called before Dr. Price and asked to bare her knee.

"I object to this half-disrobing of this young woman," said Prosecutor Short. He was sustained.

Examining scars on the young woman's arms, Dr. Price said that they were far more severe than many he had found on the girl.

Saw This Committed. Miss Anna Williams, house detective at a department store, testified that January 3 she saw Miss Gingles steal some goods from the store, and that later the girl signed a confession.

Miss Mary Renick, chief maid at the Wellington Hotel, said that when the door to the bathroom in which Miss Gingles was found, the morning of February 17, finally was opened, Miss Gingles was lying on the floor with her hands tied behind her head.

"There was a string around her wrists and her feet were tied with a stocking. I asked her who she was, and she did not reply. I asked her who I should notify, and she replied, 'Captain O'Brien' (chief of detectives). Then I asked her what was the matter, and she started to scream that a man had poisoned her and that a woman was with him. I asked her how they had poisoned her, and she said she had been drinking wine. Then the doctor came."

"What kind of a cord was she tied with?" asked Mr. O'Donnell.

"Department store, about one-eighth of an inch thick."

"No."

"Didn't you see a towel around her feet?"

"Yes."

When court adjourned the prosecutor declared that he had five more witnesses. The case is not expected to reach the jury before Friday.

SPEECH MISUNDERSTOOD

Former Justice Brown Explains Attitude Toward Divorce.

DETROIT, MICH., July 12.—"In professing myself a believer in divorce, I had no intention of making myself its advocate," says former Justice Henry B. Brown, of the United States Supreme Court.

"When I remarked in my speech before the Maryland State Bar Association at Old Point Comfort that the marriage contract included features of civil contracts, I had no intention of conveying the impression that I put it on a par with them."

"While I cannot possibly agree with Cardinal Gibbons that marriage is an indissoluble contract, or that divorce is a monster destroying the homes of the nation, as he styles it, I hold that divorces should be granted for statutory causes, and for them alone, and that they should be clearly defined as well as grave."

"Fraudulent divorces, obtained through fictitious residence, is an outrage. Collusion between the contracting parties is an abuse far too prevalent in many States where the statute is entirely reasonable."

"I am amazed at the misconception placed on my very unimportant expression of opinion at the bar meeting in Virginia. Isolated statements, especially when condensed, are apt to make startling reading."

SOLDIERS FROM KANSAS STUDYING VIRGINIA FIELDS

SPOTSVILANIA, VA., July 12.—A detachment of twenty-eight captains of the United States War College from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., belonging to the regular United States field artillery, and six enlisted men from the same place, all under command of Major Morrison and Lieutenant W. W. Overton, of the United States Army, with a train of eight army wagons, loaded with supplies and a hundred mules and horses, are camped upon the Wilderness and "Bloody Angle" battlefields. These officers are fully equipped with war maps and other historical data relating to the movement of both the Confederate and Union armies, and the engagements of both in the many battles of the Civil War in this country. The object is to study the campaigns of the war, and as the several battlefields are reached, one of the several officers is chosen to take charge of the command and to march over the several positions of both armies and discuss the many movements and engagements.

PROMINENT FIGURES IN GINGLES GIRL'S TRIAL

MISS BARRETTE, Accused by the Gingles Girl.

MISS ELLA GINGLES.

WISE REPUBLICANS INDORSE GILLESPIE

Tazewell Man Receives Another Boost for Gubernatorial Honors.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEWTON, VA., July 12.—The Republicans of Wise county met in convention at Wise to-day and elected delegates to the State convention to be held at Newport News for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor. The Wise Republicans instructed their delegation to vote for Hon. A. P. Gillespie, of Tazewell, for the nomination for Governor.

Convention at Chester. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHESTER, VA., July 12.—The Republican county meeting at Chesterfield held a meeting here to-day and elected the following delegates to the Newport News convention: F. C. Arnold, A. F. Paxson, J. A. Fansant, J. W. Nunnally, J. J. Watters and W. J. Moore. Alternates: J. K. Dance, E. S. Jordan, A. H. Pagan, W. L. Scott, William, Paul and W. P. Field. Ben Arnold, of Richmond, was present and took part in the meeting.

Convention in Middlesex. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] URBANNA, VA., July 12.—A mass-meeting of the Republicans of Middlesex was held in Urbanna to-day. The following delegates to the State convention were elected: R. S. Bristow, B. Upton, George Hewitt, C. A. Hoskins, T. E. Jones and O. J. Palmer. Resolutions endorsing the national and State organizations were adopted. Delegates go uninstructed.

Meeting at Bowling Green. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BOWLING GREEN, VA., July 12.—The Republicans held a mass meeting and named the following delegates to the convention, which meets in Newport News: Charles E. Beasley, J. D. C. Gouldin, C. M. Harris, W. N. Blatt, E. L. R. Dunn, J. R. Allen, and C. F. Hicks. The adjourned meeting again in the near future to consider the advisability of nominating a candidate for the Legislature.

WOMAN, 76; WILL JIG AT HER OWN BENEFIT

Was Widely Known as Dancer at Charitable Entertainments—Is Still Very Active.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 12.—After having devoted a large part of her life to charitable work, for which she raised large sums by her clever dancing, Madame Kernell, seventy-six years old, and, she says, almost destitute, will give a lawn party for her own benefit at Eleventh and Winter Streets Thursday night.

Although she passed the three score and ten mark six years ago, Madame Kernell says she is just as active on her feet as she was twenty years ago. To prove her assertion, she intends to dance the jig which in her early life made her in demand at charitable concerts.

"I have loved the poor all my life," said Madame Kernell yesterday, "and I did whatever I could in my humble way to help them in their distress. Now I have become one of them, and I am forced to go into the street and dance at my age, that I might keep starvation from my door."

Mennagerie and Vegetable Garden on New Headgear, It Says, Would Suit Monkeys.

READING, PA., July 12.—Rev. D. A. Hill, an evangelist of Columbus, Ohio, preached a stirring sermon at the camp meeting of the Reading Holiness Association here, in which he scored hats worn by women.

The speaker said that religion is not a matter of the head, but of the heart.

P. H. O'DONNELL, Attorney for Ella Gingles.

and strenuously rebuked the present headgear of the modern woman.

He said that there was no need to go to see a circus parade; that by looking in a milliner's window one could see a menagerie and the entire vegetable garden.

"It is a shame to call this nation a Christian one," the speaker said. "Look at the hats worn by our women. Turnips, plums, peaches, grapes and everything imaginable are worn on the female head dress. Monkeys would look well in these hats and would be delighted. African women would use the hats of to-day as hen nests."

"Women are going back to the days of barbarism."

BIDS HIGH TO BE FIRST AEROPLANE PASSENGER

Nebraska Offers $500 for Privilege of Paying Initial Fare on Wright Flyer.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—The first willing-to-be-paid passenger on a flying machine has declared himself in Washington. Secretary William E. Hayward, of the Republican National Committee, is willing to pay $500 for a ride on the Wright brothers' aeroplane. Hayward made his announcement to a group of Nebraskaans.

"I had the first automobile in the State of Nebraska," he said, "and I played in the first game of golf in this State outside of Omaha; but I never went so crazy about anything as I am about the Wright flying machine. I would be willing to give $500 for the glory of being their first regular fare."

Continued delay in the attempt of the Wrights to demonstrate their flying machine is causing Signal Corps officers a lot of worry. They see an opportunity for flying machines going to the aid of the army, and in spite of the hopes of army officers to show them the wonderful possibilities of aerial warfare, the leaders have not shown any disposition to vote a large sum of money for experiments. Represented at the Appropriations and Military Affairs Committee, were not very liberal in the last appropriation for the War Department, and have not indicated that they are going to loosen up in the next.

RICHMOND MEN IN DEAL

They Buy Property and Will Erect Plant in Lexington.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LEXINGTON, KY., July 12.—J. R. Cunningham and G. F. Vaughan, of Richmond, have bought a tract of land from C. V. Bohmer, which adjoins the Burley Loose Leaf Warehouse on South Broadway, and will erect on it a large factory for redrying tobacco. They have already bought a redryer and have about closed a deal for a boiler and engine. The whole plant will cost about $50,000. Messrs. Cunningham and Vaughan are experienced tobacco men, and at the busy season of the year they will employ over 100 hands.

GOOD ROADS MEETING HELD AT BOWLING GREEN

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BOWLING GREEN, VA., July 12.—Although the supervisors did not have their regular meeting to-day, a large number of the representative citizens of the county were present. Senator Lassiter, of Petersburg, representing the Good Roads Association of Virginia, and Captain Wilson, the Highway Commissioner, were present, and preached the gospel of good roads to the people of Carolina, setting forth the advantages of good roads to the community generally. Their speeches were listened to with considerable interest, and it looks as if much real good will be accomplished from the move, as most of the citizens seem heartily in favor of good roads, and a special vehicle tax if necessary.

SEABOARD MAKING GREAT CHANGES

Work Now Under Contract Will Double Yardage and Provide Freight Facilities.

Richmond's share of the improvements provided for in the recent bond issue made by the Seaboard Air Line Railway are well under way, and the company engineers in charge of the construction are confident of completing the work here by the last of October, or the first part of November. The contract consists of the erection of a new mammoth freight depot, the enlargement of the yards, and tunneling Broad Street near the corner of Fifteenth. It is being done at a cost of approximately $125,000, and will greatly increase the company's facilities for handling freight in this city.

The new depot will face Fifteenth Street, running from Franklin to Broad Streets, a distance of 700 feet. It will be forty-five feet wide, and will have thirty-three delivery doors, thus insuring the rapid handling of freight for city delivery. On the opposite or track side of the depot there will be a corresponding number of doors, at which freight will be received from the cars. The building, which is now well under way, is made of the finest quality of brick, set in cement mortar, and resting on a solid concrete foundation. The end facing Main Street will be made of pressed brick. The freight shed at present in use and viaduct running to it will be torn down upon the completion of the new depot, and the space formerly occupied by them will be used for yard tracks.

Tunnel under Broad Street is now about half completed, and the engineers say that it will be driven rapidly from this time on. While it is only about seventy feet long, it will be of sufficient width to accommodate two tracks, and will result in the doing away of the present grade crossing on Broad between Fifteenth and Sixteenth Streets.

The track from the new depot will run on an easy grade through the tunnel, joining the main line of the Seaboard at a point near the old power-house.

When the entire work is completed, the Seaboard will have more than double the present amount of yardage, and greatly increased facilities for handling city freight. In fact, the improvements will give the company the largest yards and freight depot in the city, and it is stated by engineers that no other company operating here could make improvements that would compare with the work being done by the Seaboard without an enormous outlay of money. This, of course, is due to topographical conditions.

The company is contemplating improvements of the same kind in Manchester, but owing to the dissatisfaction among a few property-holders along the proposed route, it has not yet started work.

Open Evenings 6 P. M. Saturdays 10 P. M.

Queen Quality SHOES

$3.50 $3.00

On until you Take it off.

Ankle Ties do not gap at the side.

Hofheimer's

Important Notice to Telephone Subscribers

Due to the failure of subscribers to call the name of the exchange in which the number wanted is located, much confusion and unsatisfactory service has resulted since the second exchange was opened Saturday night, the 3d inst.

Subscribers will not only obtain the number desired more quickly by naming the exchange, as per requests printed in the newspapers and also attached to the face of the new directory, but they will relieve the central office to an extent that will make it possible to render satisfactory service. Until subscribers name the exchange in which the number they want is located, confusion at the central office is unavoidable.

We most earnestly repeat our request to subscribers that they name the exchange in every instance. If this simple request be complied with on the part of subscribers, the service will be restored to normal conditions within a few days and at the earliest moment possible under the conditions which surround such a change as we have just made and which was rendered necessary by the growth of Richmond.

Please say "Madison 9070" or "Monroe 9070," as the case may be, and not only help us, but quicken your own service.

Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. of Virginia

News of Manchester

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 402 Hull Street.

Political enemies of D. L. Toney, candidate for the House of Delegates from the district composed of the city of Manchester, Chesterfield and Powhatan counties, have in the past few weeks spread the report that Mr. Toney, who has been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in case he should be elected, he would shortly afterwards apply for a renewal of his license. These reports reached the ears of friends of the Manchester candidate before Mr. Toney, who had been a lifelong resident of this city, had retired from a liquor business alms to become a candidate for the Legislature, and that in